

Rivers of Ink

Codex Amiatinus and the Northumbrian Heritage

Rivers of Ink brings a new light and sound projection to your area. The artwork uses the Codex Amiatinus, the world's oldest complete Bible, as a unique lens with which to look into the past. At turn of the eighth century the Northumbrian monks transformed the separate volumes of scriptural books into one all-encompassing book: the Bible as we know it today. Codex Amiatinus is not widely known in the region of its birth, but we hope to change that and to increase appreciation of this great Northumbrian book!

Register here for the talks:

<https://www.durhamcathedral.co.uk/visit-us/concerts-events>

Durham Cathedral

Galilee Chapel, Durham, DH1 3EH

Saturday 21 February - 10am-5pm

Public talk at 3pm: Francis Watson on “Cuthbert, Bede, and Two Great Northumbrian Books”

Sunday 22 February - 12.30pm-3pm

Public talk at 2pm: Richard Gameson on “The Three Bibles of Wearmouth/Jarrow”

Monday 23 February - 10am-5pm

