Renamed Lingnan Daxue in Chinese and Lingnan University in English. Dr Chung Wing-kwong and Dr Lee Ying-lam were elected as President and Vice-President.

1938

Moved to Hong Kong after the fall of Guangzhou during anti-Japanese War and continued operation using the campus of The University of Hong Kong. School of Agriculture moved to Nam Tei of Tuen Mun.

1952

Lingnan University was incorporated into other Guangzhou higher education institutions, maintaining a unique reputation in South China's higher education.

1999

Officially renamed Lingnan University, and became one of the UGC-funded universities in Hong Kong.

1903

New campus set up at Kangle village of Guangzhou. Renamed Canton Christian College in English and adopted Chinese name Lingnan Xuetaang

1918

Began offering university-level programmes, recognised by fifteen prestigious universities including Harvard, Yale, Columbia, and Stanford

1937

Dr Lee Ying-lam became the President

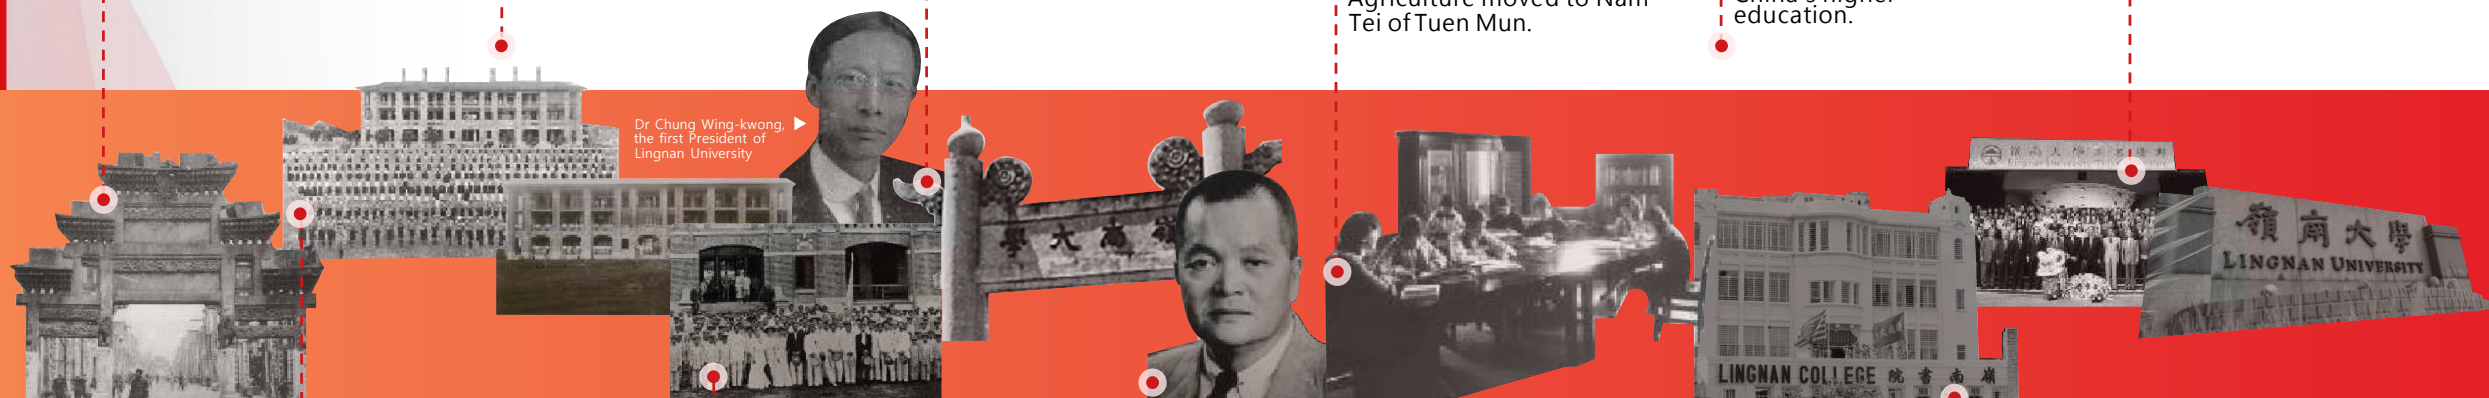

1948

Chen Xu-jing became the President, Tschen Yin-koh, WANG Li, JIANG Lifu, Liang Fang-chung and other famous scholars joined Lingnan University

1967

Lingnan College
Re-established at Stubbs Road in Hong Kong.

Over the 130-year history, Lingnan University has undergone "three falls and three rises" and "nine relocations". Facing these challenges, the University has persistently maintained its commitment to education, showcasing the Lingnan spirit marked by passion, loyalty, perseverance, openness to different ideas and cultures, and a readiness to serve.
